Next Engineers: Greenville Engineering Camp 2025 (Clemson, SC)

Please read the details below before starting the application.

Engineering Camp Overview and Schedule

The Next Engineers: Greenville Engineering Camp, sponsored by the GE Aerospace Foundation and provided by Clemson University, is open to any current 8th or 9th grader who lives in South Carolina.

Over the course of 1 week, campers will be immersed in the world of engineering, where they will develop their creativity and problem-solving skills, complete hands-on, team-based design challenges, have an opportunity to meet real-world engineers, and get a sense of college life. Camp is free of charge to all participants. Lunch will be provided. Transportation will be provided to students in Anderson, Greenville, Oconee, Pickens, or Spartanburg counties. Students residing outside of these counties will need to provide their own daily transportation to and from Clemson University.

Engineering Camp will be held at Clemson University in Clemson, South Carolina. Each session will run from 9 AM to 3 PM, Monday-Friday. This does not include transportation time. Pick-up and drop-off times will be communicated to campers before the start of each session. Students may participate in only one session. Sessions will take place the following weeks:

- Monday, June 9-Friday, June 13, 2025
- Monday, June 23-Friday, June 27, 2025

The Greenville Engineering Camp is managed by Clemson University PEER & WISE and FHI 360.

Engineering Camp Application Process

The application is due by Friday, March 21, 2025 at 11:59 PM. If more than one student is applying in a family, then an application must be submitted for each student using a separate e-mail address.

Please note that submitting a camp application form does not guarantee a spot in the Engineering Camp. Eligible students will be selected based on a lottery system until all spots are filled. Students who have never attended Next Engineers: Engineering Camp before will be given preference over students who attended in 2024. Additionally, preference will be given to students living in Anderson, Greenville, Oconee, Pickens, or Spartanburg counties. Some students may be placed on a waiting list and granted admissions if/when spots become available. Final selection into Engineering Camp will not be based on gender, ethnicity, race, or physical ability. Students and parents will be notified regarding admission into Engineering Camp by Friday, April 11, 2025.

Scanned applications and questions may be e-mailed to nextengineersGVL@clemson.edu.

GE Next Engineers Privacy Notice

Date of Notice: November 27, 2024

This privacy notice applies to all personal information that FHI 360, GE Aerospace, GE Vernova, and the GE Aerospace Foundation (data controllers) collect or process about you in connection with participation in Next Engineers. The purpose of Next Engineers is to provide students with opportunities to learn more about engineering and to evaluate the effectiveness of these opportunities.

For prospective students, applicants, participants, and parents, Next Engineers collects information about you through our interest forms, your application forms, and Next Engineers participation forms. This information includes personal information, such as contact information, demographics, academic information, interests, activities, and preferences.

Your name will be included with the information provided to us through the interest form, program application and/or program confirmation form. For participants, your name will also be used to keep track of your attendance in Next Engineers' activities. For all other program data, your name will be removed from the information we receive, and instead will be linked by a numerical code. You may be asked if we can record your interviews or other sessions, or use your photograph or videos, but these will be optional.

For volunteers and local community partners, we may collect your information directly from you such as your name, email, contact information and your responses on surveys with the purpose of facilitating communication, documenting participation in Next Engineers activities, and to improve Next Engineers activities.

The legal bases for collecting and processing your personal information includes the following:

- Our legitimate interest in providing this program to students and gathering information that will help us further develop the program and provide more students with similar opportunities;
- Your consent to collect certain special types of information, such as videos and photographs;
- Archiving, research, and statistical purposes.

Your data will be used and/or stored for five (5) years after the conclusion of Next Engineers.

Your Rights

To the extent provided by the law of your jurisdiction, you may have the following rights:

- The right to assess personal information we process about you and request details of that processing;
- The right to request that we update, correct, amend, erase, or restrict your personal information;
- The right to request data portability;
- The right to submit a complaint to your local data protection authority.

Withdrawal of Consent

Where provided by law, you may withdraw consent you previously provided to us or object at any time to the processing of your personal information and we will apply your preferences going forward as appropriate. Your withdrawal has no effect on the lawfulness of the data processing that occurred prior to your withdrawal.

Security

We implement technical and organizational measures to ensure a level of security appropriate to the risk to the personal information we process. These measures are aimed at ensuring the ongoing integrity and confidentiality of personal information. We evaluate these measures on a regular basis to ensure the security of the processing. For more information on the appropriate safeguards in place, please contact us at the email address below.

Data Access and Data Transfer

FHI 360 is located in the United States and therefore, some information you provide, such as your application information, is stored on servers located in the United States. Only FHI 360 and the partner organization in your country or state implementing your local program has access to this information in a way that is identifiable (e.g., that is connected to your name).

Your data may be used by and shared with our partners outside your country of residence, but it will be de-identified prior to being shared. This means that your name and contact information will not be connected to your personal information, but it will be coded instead. In other words, your name, phone number, and email address will never be shared with partners in other countries or states. Only FHI 360 and partners located in your country or state would have access to that data.

Any identifiable or coded personal information shared with individuals outside your country will be treated in compliance with applicable data protection laws. Data privacy and protection in those countries may not offer the same level of protection as those in your own country, but we transfer data using country-specific mechanisms, such as standard contractual clauses.

Contact Information

If you have questions or concerns regarding the way in which your personal information has been used, or you want to exercise one of your rights or withdraw consent, please contact the FHI Data Privacy Officer at privacy@fhi360.org.

Changes to the Notice

You may request a copy of this privacy notice from us using the contact details set out above. We may modify or update this privacy notice from time to time. You will be able to see when we last updated the privacy notice because we will include a revision date. Changes and additions to this privacy notice are effective from the date on which they are posted. Where changes to this policy will have a fundamental impact on the nature of the processing or otherwise have a substantial impact on you, we will give you sufficient advance notice so that you have the opportunity to exercise your rights (for example, to object to the processing).
